

TRUSTEES' AWARD

The Seekonk Board of Library Trustees Award was established in 1979, at the recommendation of Helen Keough. It was created to increase public relations between the schools and the Public Library. The Award is given at Class Night and provides high visibility for the Board of Library Trustees. The only reference in the minutes to the criteria for selection for recipients of the Trustees Award is to the “unsung hero” concept.

The following description was adopted as the criteria for selection. The intent is to honor a student who has shown a commitment to academic excellence, has demonstrated perseverance in achieving goals set for themselves, and who has participated in a positive manner in school and extracurricular activities.
